U. S. OFFICIAL IS JAILED IN MAIL HOLDUP

Postoffice Inspector Charged With Being Master Mind In $2,000,000 Robbery Near Chicago—
Regarded as Ace, Sleuth by Authorities

CHICAGO—(By Associated Press)—Charged with being the master mind in the $2,000,000 mail robbery at Roundout, Ills., on June 12, which he took a leading part investigating, William F. Fahy, postoffice inspector, was held in the Kane-co jail at Geneva today in bonds of $50,000. He was arrested in his private office in the federal building late yesterday after warrants had been issued on complaint of five eastern inspectors.

Fahy, who was regarded as an ace among postal authorities, and who obtained information which sent "Big Tim" Murphy and his alleged accomplices to federal prison for the Dearborn-st station $338,000 robbery here three years ago, charged the arrest was due to a frameup by criminal enemies and professional rivals.

He will be arraigned September 6.

The specific charge against Fahy is conspiracy with Max Greenberg and Sam Grant, fugitives previously named as ring-leaders in the robbery, to steal the ten sacks of registered mail taken from the mail train.

According to inspectors working on the case it is believed Fahy is in possession of a considerable part of the loot, although they admit they have thus far been unable to recover any of the amount. Fahy has been watched ever since a few days after the robbery. Chief Postal Inspector C. H. Claraham of New York said. He stated that inspectors have followed Fahy to places where they say he met the men with whom he is charged with conspiring.

The Roundout robbery was one of the most spectacular to occur in this vicinity in years. Eight men stopped a special mail train of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway at Roundout, 24 miles north of Chicago, after subduing the clerks with tear bombs, the robbers, wearing gas masks, made selections of certain mail sacks and escaped in two motor cars. Their manner of operation led inspectors to believe they had advance information.

Three New York brothers, ex-convicts from Texas, are in jail in connection with the robbery. One bandit was shot by the leader, who was thought to have mistaken him for a mail clerk.

Fahy has been an inspector in Chicago for five years and previously was in Philadelphia for two years. His salary was $3,500 a year. Inspectors who have had Fahy under surveillance for several days, today were preparing to examine his bank account and his acquaintance with women as well as men.

The federal grand jury has been summoned to convene Friday. C. H. Claraham, chief postoffice inspector at New York, who is working on the case, said it could be presented to the present grand jury but might be held for the September grand jury. Fahy's preliminary hearing has been set for September 5, before the United States Commissioner Beiler who sent him to jail at Geneva in default of $50,000 bond.

DEFENSE OF BOY KILLERS IS ASSAILED

Mental Disease is Called Fiction by Crowe

DEMANDS MALADY NAME

Guns Are Turned on Testimony of Alienist

CRIMINAL COURT ROOM, CHICAGO — (By United Press)—"The mental disease" defense in the Leopold-Loeb murder hearing is a fiction advanced to save Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb from the gallows, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe charged today in the second phase of his argument.

Crowe concentrated his fire on Dr. William A. White, psychiatrist of Washington, one of the leading alienists for the defense.

"If these boys are suffering from a mental disease, why didn't they give it a name?" asked Crowe. "I am surprised at Dr. White for not giving this disease a name for he has in the past given names for diseases that do not exist."

Crowe said: "The mental disease would disappear very rapidly if the cause for its existence were removed."

"If the state had not fastened the crime on these boys, Leopold would be enjoying himself in the gay capitals of Europe, on the $5,000 he had wrung from Jacob Franks and indulging his unnatural lust," Crowe shouted.

He attacked the "honesty" of the entire defense. Witnesses were placed on the stand to testify to fainting spells by Loeb so that alienists could be placed on the stand to build up a defense of mental disease, Crowe said.

"I contend that this is not an honest defense," Crowe said. "They are just a couple of rats with no other way of escape, so they plead an insanity defense."

He argued that the fainting spells were due to natural and normal causes.

Crowe took the Hulbert-Bowman medical report, which was prepared by Dr. Harold S. Hulbert and Dr. Karl Bowman of Boston, defense alienists, and showed that he considered discrepancies between this written report and the testimony of Dr. Hulbert from the witness stand. The state's attorney argued that the written report was a true presentation.

He brought the subject of perversion from cover.

"I can show and will show, your honor, that Loeb was afraid of Leopold because Leopold knew of his crimes," Crowe said. "And I'll show that Leopold forced Loeb to submit his body to vile and unnatural abuses in order to assure secrecy. Leopold was simply the mastermind."

Crowe said he would show the moving motive in this case, was money, money, money and blood, and I'll prove it thru their own evidence.

Crowe pointed to a passage in the report which said young Loeb rarely had day dreams. Defense testimony indicated he was a habitual day dreamer.

Another passage said Loeb read good literature including Dickens and Thackeray. Many defense witnesses testified Loeb spent much of his time reading detective stories.

Points such as these Crowe pointed to in a strenuous effort to destroy the "mental diseases" defense of the young slayers.

Members of the Leopold and Loeb families schooled Nathan and Richard in what to say and what not to say and then called in the doctors to examine them, Crowe charged. Practically every activity held by the defense to indicate the presence of mental diseases is simply the activity of normal boys.

GREAT HONORS AWAIT GIRL CHOSEN QUEEN

Winner to Travel in State to Tulsa Convention

INDUCEMENTS OFFERED

No Entrant Will Be Given Unwelcome Publicity

One of the questions that has been asked a number of times of the Contest Editor is, "Why is The Lima News so interested in the selection of Princess Ohio for the International Petroleum Congress in Tulsa, Okla.?"

It has been mentioned that this is not a circulation scheme neither is it a contest where each contestant will be required to do a certain amount of campaigning in order to keep in the race, so the question is a natural one.

The reason is simply this: Lima is one of the largest oil centers in the eastern section of the United States and The Lima News is the largest newspaper circulating in the territory.

Those in charge of the international oil convention are very anxious to get the most beautiful Ohio girl as Princess Ohio at the monster exposition. For that reason The Lima News was asked to help find her.

NO PUBLICITY
In order that there might be none of the unwelcome publicity or unfair competition so often seen in beauty contests, it was decided to not reveal the name or print the photograph of any girl unless her permission is obtained.

This makes it possible for any girl in the state to send in her picture without being afraid that her friends will class her as a publicity seeker. This feature has resulted in a large number of entrants.

Honors galore have been planned for the Ohio girl. She will travel in state with all expenses paid. She will be the center of a beautiful float and take part in the ceremonies of the exposition. Parties will be arranged for her and life will be just one gay whirl from the time she leaves Lima until the returns. She will be chaperoned thruout the entire trip.

During the big congress the Queen of all the beauties will be selected. Just think of the honor that would come to Lima and to Ohio if Princess Ohio were chosen.

As one of the requirements of the contest is that a 1924 picture be entered, The Lima News staff photographer will be glad to take absolutely free of all cost the picture of any girl who desires to enter. A call or a letter to the Contest Editor is all that is necessary.

CONDEMNATION SUITS TO BE STARTED BY BOARD

BOYS CALLED BEST RISKS

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Boys are better "college risks" than girls, says a report on the intelligence of high school seniors received by the interior department from the Massachusetts board of education.

For every two boys apt to fall for graduation, the figures show three girls are likely to lose their chance. Forty per cent of the boys and 23 per cent of the girls are listed as "good risks." Ten thousand of the 18,000 seniors in Massachusetts high schools, the report adds, will enter as freshmen in higher institutions of learning this fall.

Attempts to Buy Lots at Fair Price Fails, Claim

COURT BATTLE EXPECTED

"Save Trees" Slogan of Member of Body

Decision to acquire lots adjoining South high and No. 2 sites for school purposes, was made by the Lima board of education at regular meeting Tuesday night.

The board by a vote of four to none, one member being absent, approved a resolution ordering Paul Landis, city solicitor to institute condemnation proceedings against the owners of the wanted property.

The lots which the board desires to condemn, are property of F. M. Lockhart, in Vine-st. and St. Johns-av. adjoining South high, and Miss Mary Stoltenbach, at site No. 2 in McKenzie addition.

Members of the board said they had previously attempted to buy the lots from the owners but could not obtain satisfactory terms.

NOT FIGHT
Action of the board will no doubt bring on a hotly contested court battle to compel the owners to part with their holdings.

A recitation of "Woodman Woodman, Spare That Tree," would have added force to argument of Ralph Austin, during a discussion of bids for concrete at two of the new school buildings.

He spoke for the conservation of several trees, especially one large maple.

"It's a shame to cut down a big tree," he declared, "can't the walk be laid around it?"

Someone pointed out that the city had rules for laying the walks and might not permit going around. Another suggestion was getting the city engineer to place the walks so as to miss the tree.

Contract for the walk was let to Orr & Miller for 28 1-2 cents a square foot.

The board voted to purchase two paper balers to take care of waste paper now burned in furnaces.

ENVOYS NAMED BY COOLIDGE

Bancroft to Japan, Sheffield to Mexico

PLYMOUTH Vt.—(By United Press)—Edgar Addison Bancroft of Chicago, and James Rockwell Sheffield of New York, have been appointed by President Coolidge as ambassadors to Japan and Mexico, respectively.

The appointments were announced last night by the president.

The Japanese post, because of the delicate nature of the relations now existing between the United States and Japan, has required a particularly careful survey of the available men.

Bancroft has long ranked among the foremost lawyers of the United States and is descended from the Bancroft family which came to New England in 1640. He was born in Galesburg, Ills., and graduated from Knox College in 1878 and from Columbia Law School in 1880. He was married in 1896 to Miss Margaret Healy of Chelsea, Mass.

The trip will be the first time the president has left his father's home since his arrival with the exception of short motor trips over the scenes of his boyhood.

BOOBY PRIZE IS WON BY PRINCE

Awarded Doll for Costume at Fancy Dress Ball

DANCES WITH YANKEE GIRL

Fox Trots Aboard Ship on Way to U. S.

ABOARD STEAMSHIP BERENGARIA — (By Wireless to Associated Press) — The Prince of Wales was awarded the "booby" prize for his costume at a fancy dress dance held in the ball room of the Berengaria last evening.

It had been stated that his royal highness would not appear in costume, but at a late hour he entered, made up to represent an Apache.

There was repeated cheering when he and a lady dressed as a boy received the booby prize doll.

By CHARLES W. SUTTON

ABOARD BERENGARIA, EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — The Prince of Wales, who has been called a prince of almost everything except the dance, has proved a real prince of the dance in the palm garden of the big liner and he made an American girl very happy dancing with her.

After he had been presented to his side, General Foster.

The girl is Miss Leonora Cahill, of St. Louis, and Wales evidently thinks she is an excellent dancing partner for him.

Continued as they fox trotted to the snappy music of the jazz band of a North Carolina University student.

CALLED GOOD DANCER

Miss Cahill, of course, was quite happy but she was modest and said she supposed the prince selected her as a partner merely because they were about the same size.

"He's a most excellent dancer," she said enthusiastically.

Yesterday Wales caught a strain of the jazz music coming out of the palm court and suddenly decided to dance.

He first went on the floor with Lady Mountbatten, and later danced with Mrs. Richard Norton of the Mountbatten party.

Then he asked to be presented to Miss Cahill, who was frankly smiled by every girl on the ship today.

So enthusiastic was the British heir's dancing that he wilted several times but did not seem to effect his enjoyment in the least and towards the end of the dancing he did not even bother to put on fresh ones.

Every one on the ship agreed he is the best dancer they have seen on the floor so far, using many of the steps common in the United States.

PLAN ACCEPTED

French Senate Approves Dawes Reparations Program

PARIS — (By Associated Press) — By virtue of the senate's approval last night, Premier Herriot now is fully empowered to sign the London agreement and do everything necessary to put the Dawes plan into effect as the chamber of deputies previously sanctioned his course by voting its confidence Sunday morning.

The vote in the senate which came after a long time, was 236 to 40. Herriot and the republican cabinet now are awaiting the vote in the chamber which is expected to be taken later today but in view of the weakening Nationalist opposition, little doubt is felt about the outcome of the vote.

The Balkan cabinet has already given its ratification without bringing the matter before parliament.

REKUN — (By Associated Press)

If the Reichstag rejects the pact on the Dawes reparations plan, elaborated at the international conference in London, the legislative body will be dissolved, according to the announcement.

There was a free-for-all fight between the Communists and the Democrats. A Communist struck a Democrat member in the face and the encounter led to a general melee and great uproar. ### COMMERCIAL BOARD JOB IS STILL OPEN: JIM MORTON OFFERED OLD POSITION

No word has been received as yet from James E. Morton, former manager of the board of commerce, who was requested Tuesday by the board of directors of the commerce board to return to Lima to head that organization.

Morton was manager of the board for a number of years but resigned this spring to take up a bigger position as field secretary of the Ohio Retail Council with headquarters at Columbus. It was rumored that he would be willing to return to Lima, where he and his family made their home while he was board of commerce manager, and the directors of the board decided Tuesday to ask him to return, offering besides their inducements a substantial increase in salary.

The directors are reasonably certain that he will reply favorably. If he decides to return, he will probably begin his duties September 15.

Don C. Jacobs of Fremont, succeeded Morton but resigned July 15 because of friction with board members. It is said the board has been without a head since that date.

Utilities Promise City Work Will Be Speeded Up

Opening Thursday of the Main-st paving will see the passage of telephone poles on Main-st, according to promises made Wednesday by City Manager C. A. Bingham and Telegraph Co. and the Ohio Power Co.

Only a few poles remain on the street and workmen are removing these as quickly as possible. Some little trouble is being experienced with the large pole at High-st and Main-st, as it is reported some men have objected to changing power and phone conduits into their stores. This difficulty is expected to be overcome and the pole removed along with the others.

With the exception of police and fire alarm boxes and the cast iron pipe for flag decorations, Main-st will be clear of all obstructions along the curbs, officials announced in connection with this movement which was started here several years ago.

"GUMSHOE" IDEA HIT BY DAVIS

Objects to Peeping Thru International Keyhole

URGES COMMON COURAGE

Democratic Nominee Adds to His Honesty Slogan

ON BOARD METROPOLITAN EXPRESS, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, AT PITTSBURGH — (By Associated Press) — Having opened his campaign in the middle west yesterday with an address at Columbus, Ohio, John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate, was returning to New York today to remain until next Sunday when he will set forth on his first extended speaking tour.

That trip will carry him into the far west. After speaking at Wheeling, W. Va., on Labor Day, and visiting western headquarters at Chicago, the nominee will go to Omaha, Neb., where under present plans he will deliver an address on September 6.

Beyond that date Davis' itinerary has been arranged only tentatively. He may visit Lincoln, Neb., on September 7 and then proceed to Denver, Colo., to speak there on the following day. Before returning to his eastern headquarters at New York he may speak at Kansas City and St. Louis.

IN HIS address to the Ohio State Democratic convention yesterday the Democratic nominee added to his slogan of "common honesty" in government, two others: "common justice" and "common courage."

Common justice is needed in legislation, he declared, referring directly to the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill and tax reduction bill in proposing "common courage."

Davis declared this was needed in both domestic and foreign affairs. He said he did not want the American government to tip-toe behind closed doors with its unofficial obsequiousness to every international keyhole.

He wanted the United States as a nation, he said, to stand on an equality with the other nations of the world and do her full share in establishing a full and lasting peace for all mankind.

LOVE TANGLE IS BEFORE COURT

$5 Weekly Payment Ordered in Stolzenbach Suit

ALLOW ATTORNEY FEES

Wife Denies Allegations in Stull Divorce Action

Partial hearing in the love triangle in which Mrs. Wava Stolzenbach charges that her husband, Ruby Wyatt, 232 W. Vine-st., who is alleged to have stolen affections of Charles H. Stolzenbach, 24, salesman for the Stolzenbach Baking Co., of 724 W. Market-st., was held in common pleas court Wednesday.

Mrs. Stolzenbach, who prior to her marriage was Miss Wava Faust, of Scotts Crossing, wants to divorce her husband. In a lengthy petition filed Aug. 23, she told of his attentions to Miss Wyatt and of their making trips to Russell's Point, Lakeview and other popular places.

The wife remained at home to care for her son, John, she avers. That liquor of various sorts were consumed on these nocturnal love trysts, is hinted in Mrs. Stolzenbach's petition. At least she relates that her mate frequently came to her under evident influence of liquor.

COURT DECISION

Hearing Wednesday before Judge H. W. Blachly was not for the purpose of hearing testimony in the divorce action, but to thresh out the question of alimony to be paid by the husband to the wife during the period the action is pending.

Judge Blachly after hearing testimony of the wife and probing the earnings of the defendant allowed the plaintiff $40 for attorney's fees and further ordered Stolzenbach to pay the sum of $5 a week toward the support of his son John, aged 3.

No alimony was allowed by the court in a suit brought by William Stauff, former ice man and oil worker, of Toledo, against Edna Stull, a domestic at the Lima House.

Stull convinced the court that he was out of work, and it was learned that the wife was earning $10.50 and lodging at the hotel. Stull was ordered to pay $40 attorney's fees as soon as he can raise the money.

In a petition filed June 5, Stull charged that his wife would not keep house and that she ran around with other men and made time out of the city in her company.

Mrs. Stull, it is said, denies the charge and obtained leave from the court Wednesday to file a cross petition against her mate.

MAIN-ST POLES TO VANISH

Utilities Promise City Work Will Be Speeded Up

Opening Thursday of the Main-st paving will see the passage of telephone poles on Main-st, according to promises made Wednesday by City Manager C. A. Bingham and Telegraph Co. and the Ohio Power Co.

Only a few poles remain on the street and workmen are removing these as quickly as possible. Some little trouble is being experienced with the large pole at High-st and Main-st, as it is reported some men have objected to changing power and phone conduits into their stores. This difficulty is expected to be overcome and the pole removed along with the others.

With the exception of police and fire alarm boxes and the cast iron pipe for flag decorations, Main-st will be clear of all obstructions along the curbs, officials announced in connection with this movement which was started here several years ago.

FLIERS HOP OFF TOMORROW

Americans' Next Jump is to Labrador

LAST OVER SEA JOURNEY

New Engines Are Installed for Homeward Dash

ABOARD U. S. S. "RICHMOND" — (By United Press) — Americans' two dayless globe circling pilots expect to take off tomorrow from their base at Iglood, Greenland, to Indian Harbor, Labrador, first stop on the North American continent.

Preparatory to their final homeward dash, the west coast of the United States, new engines have been installed in the around the world planes at Iglood. Mechanics are testing the engines today to assure mechanical safety when the altimeter hop off tomorrow.

The cruise "Richmond" is en route to Indian Harbor to await arrival of the fliers. On board is Lieutenant Locatelli, and four companions who started out from Pisa on a flight to New York several weeks ago. Locatelli was forced down in the waters near Greenland and rescued by the "Richmond" Sunday night.

FLIGHT POSTPONED

The Italian pilot said he would like to continue his flight to South America this year but declared it impossible in that he has no money to pay for the crash and also cancel all chance of a polar flight before next year.

Locatelli today received a radio message from Lieutenant Lowell Smith, commander of the American flight, which contained first of all a great deal of praise and congratulations upon the safe rescue of the Italian airman.

The Italian sent the following message to Smith:

"We thank you for all you have done for us. We've found you not only a great pilot but also a good friend. Fortunes have been against us but we sincerely desire your magnificent flight will be successful until its accomplishment for the glory of all humanity."

ALL READY FOR "Y" PICNIC

Event to Be Held Even if Rain Falls

Rain or shine, the annual "Y" picnic will be held Thursday afternoon and evening, T. R. Schooner, chairman of the Y. M. C. A. Boosters' club picnic committee, said Wednesday morning.

The picnic must be held, regardless of the weather, because there has been a great amount of work and energy expended toward making it a success and the foodstuffs have all been ordered and must be used Thursday and it is therefore impossible to postpone the event, he said.

If the weather is inclement, place of the picnic will be moved from McBeth park to the "Y" gymnasium, banquet rooms, lobby and cafeteria for an indoor picnic. But if the weather is at all suitable, the picnic will be held at McBeth park as planned.

Three events on the picnic program are attracting a great deal of interest and each will draw a large following, it is said. The first of these, the tug-of-war between the foremen of the Garford Motor Truck Co. and the Lima Locomotive Works, is expected to be a battle, as much rivalry exists between these two industrial plants in all athletic sports. The "old-timers" under the leadership of Frank Schenk, expect to show off their "youngsters."

A thing or two about the games of volleyball, while the married men's baseball team is out to give the single men's nine a severe drubbing. H. F. Comstock and J. P. Steiner have charge of the single men's team which is largely recruited from the "Y" dormitory.

Last-minute reservations for the picnic, which is open to the entire Y. M. C. A. membership over 15 years of age and all contributors, may be made by calling the Y. M. C. A. at Main 4974 any time before 12:00 noon on Thursday, Schooner said.

We produce the finest grade of clothes in very large quantities at minimum cost. In

Real Bosses

One of the six oldest business firms in the United States is Devoe & Itaynolds Co., Inc., manufacturers of paints and painters' materials. It has been active for 170 years.

Sixteen of this company's employees have just taken over the business. They bought a controlling interest. It required a lot of money from each of the 16, for it's a big business.

Such stories are becoming common—a small group of leading employees purchasing the interest of their boss.

Later you will frequently read that thousands of employees have, by pooling their savings, bought out their employer.

This may be the eventual solution of the labor-capital problem.

It certainly would go a long way toward making every man more or less his own boss.

The income of the American people for six years is just about equivalent to the entire national wealth. It is more than enough to buy all the business organizations in the country, including sources of raw materials, railroads and marketing organizations.

Of course, all this income isn't available for any such purpose. Living expenses have to be met first. Only savings could be devoted to buying ownership of industry.

But it all illustrates the gigantic power of the people's savings. By organization and sufficient time, employees could buy out all employers.

Would things run smoothly if employees by purchase became their own employers? Not unless they united in an organization with almost military discipline to handle the management. Petty jealousies and rivalries would be fatal. Every business, to be efficient, must have a Real Boss at its head, the same as an army must have a staff presided over by a general with the power of decision.

Our original American settlers discarded the monarchy idea in government. But they brought over and clung to the monarchical system in business—the employer the ruler, employees his subjects. We are gradually in business getting a semblance of the democracy we have in government. Final attainment of the goal may be thru the pooled buying power of employees.

Life Cycles

A monster with feet that made tracks as big as washtubs! These tracks are discovered in Utah coal mines by William Peterson, geologist. He writes about them in Natural History magazine.

The monster was one of the giant dinosaurs that roamed part of our country millions of years ago. It was a flesh-eating reptile. This particular specimen, which left its trail in Utah, was half-grown, compared with some of its relatives, for it was only 20 feet tall and 47 feet from nose to tail-tip.

It walked on its hind legs. Fore legs were small, used for clutching its prey.

Nature does nothing without a purpose. What was the purpose of these gigantic prehistoric monsters? One scientific guess runs as follows:

Nature invented big animals to dissipate energy back to its source, the sun. A dinosaur, clumsily moving thru the jungle, smashing huge trees, released a lot of energy.

gy. On a small scale, theoretically, you release energy similarly when, for instance, you snap your fingers.

But the dinosaurs were unable to dissipate enough energy. Other energy was stored in coal, to be released later by man. Having experimented, nature began creating millions of smaller forms of life, to dissipate energy—and killed off the huge ones.

The more you study nature, the more you wonder if she has any definite ultimate goal. She seems to be experimenting. One life form after another has its cycle, then is discarded to make room for others. More recent cases of extinct life are passenger pigeons, the dodo and, almost, the buffalo.

Man is having his fling now. How long until man will become extinct? Many scientists predict that insects will rule the earth after us. Not pleasing to our vanity.

Learn Finance

It's easy to become rich—if you know how. This is proved by the large number of men who start with a shoestring and become independently wealthy in a few years.

Outsiders say: "He has the money-making gift." In other words, "he" knows the ropes. Finance has been kept mysterious and exclusive. Yet it's an exact science. Why not teach it in schools, beginning with the first grade? Alas, tho, the men who know the most about theories and practices of finance are rarely able to make much money from their knowledge.

o o o

Who

The new edition of "Who's Who in America" contains biographies of 25,357 prominent people. Twenty-three out of every 100 of these, by the way, never attended college.

A fourth of the total were born on farms, a fourth in small towns, a fourth in small cities, a fourth in big cities. An acorn grows into an oak, not an evergreen—whether it's planted in the backwoods or in a metropolitan park.

Environment is not all. We bring into this world with us fully three-fourths of what we become at the end of the road. Many never develop their inborn possibilities.

Debts and Profits

Going into debt to make money—this is a growing practice. A man, for example, borrows $1,000 on which he pays 6 per cent interest, so he can make an investment paying 8 per cent. This is the whole theory of banking. So the averaging man is becoming a banker. Americans are getting to be remarkably skilled in finance. This sort of knowledge educates people out of poverty. Debt, renamed "obligation," is losing its terrors.

Our Spending

Times have not been as dull as many imagined. In July, Americans spent $375 for every $321 paid out in July. This is revealed by bank clearings, which include 95 per cent of all money transactions.

More than half of the money, in bank check form, passed thru clearing houses in the New York Federal Reserve District. That ought to get a rise out of the west.

COOKING UP SOMETHING PRETTY GOOD

LIMA NEWS HEALTH SERVICE

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

STOP THAT WORRYING

From what I may fairly call the voluminous correspondence I have with readers—or rather the traders have it with me—one thing seems clear: By the time a lot of plain people feel they are sick enough to consult a physician they're so sick the physician can hold out little hope for them. It is the old question again, you see. Just where does health end and disease begin? Is there a dividing line anywhere between health and disease, and if so, how is a fellow to know when he crosses the line, going or coming? When is any one sick enough to seek medical advice or care? Won't the family doctor, busy man that he is, just laugh at minor complaints and make one feel foolish for having consulted him, after all? Rather than run the chance of being caught in such a horrible predicament as that, shouldn't a fellow indulge in a little self-diagnosis and self-treatment, as long as the trouble isn't actually disabling? Of course it's merely a functional ailment at present—of course it can't be of any importance, therefore—and just look at the great array of sure-fire nostrums, both medicinal and non-medicinal, which are available at prices to suit all reasonably fat pocket-books? So why run to the doctor with a little complaint? Any fellow is fool enough to be his own doctor for the minor, trifling, merely functional troubles, at least.

You know, folks, I pose as a health expert. I pretend to have some special knowledge of health and to give advice about health and hygiene to readers who want it. I do not give advice about diseases, either the diagnosis or treatment of diseases. So it would seem that I must draw a line somewhere between health and disease, that I may separate out the queries which have to do with health matters proper and answer them, leaving the queries that have to do with disease to chuck into the waste basket. I do draw a line, but I draw it with a very broad pen. There is a considerable breadth of borderland between health and disease, a gradual, imperceptible merging.

Likewise the layman should stop dressing himself about the condition of his health. If he fears it is not all right, then he must be sick enough to seek medical attention. As a matter of business efficiency he needs medical attention. It is not a thing to gamble on. It is a foolish thing to worry about. The time to consult a physician is a year before you are convinced you've got to have one.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST

THE KING AND THE FOOL

Once there was a king who said:
"I have power o'er all things:
Wheresoever I may tread
Tremble great and small things."

"None there is to cry me nay,
As I will, so is it;
Who my words shall disobey
Dungeons deep shall visit."

One day spake his merry fool:
"Sire, there's nothing to it!
Men are easy things to rule,
Any king can do it."

"Tis the crown and not the man
Makes them bow and fall so;
Let me wear it and I can Win obedience also."

"Men are always seeking things
From a monarch's leader.
That is why they flatter kings,
Let's try something harder!"

"If you think the power is yours
All things here to master,
Bid the eagle nest in doors
Or the oak grow faster."

"Tell the song-birds not to sing
Till you wake each morning;
See, oh, grave and mighty king,
If they'll heed your warning."

"Men may tremble at your words
True to you or traitor,
But all nature's beasts and birds
Serve but their Creator."

Sleeping Dollars and Idle Merchandise Never Made Any Man Wealthy

There was once a man, an expert in the art of arranging merchandise in a store and in the selection of high quality goods, who decided to open a little store for himself. He purchased the best goods the various markets offered, furnished a beautiful store room and prepared to do business.

He had gone over the matter very carefully and he estimated a very good profit on his merchandise even tho prices were moderate and the quality high. There was no reason why he should not be successful in the venture.

One day he awakened to the fact that he was losing money and that unless something was done immediately he would soon be forced to give up his little store. A close investigation suddenly brought to him the realization that profits could never be either counted or collected on goods unless they were sold over the counter.

As a result he contracted for advertising space in the daily newspaper and carried his message to those who were in need of the merchandise and thru whom he could collect his profits.

The Lima News is a big powerful newspaper with a circulation that covers the district like a blanket.

Let it help you gather the profits lying in idle merchandise.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood, power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. W. D. Schaefer, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

VIOLATORS GET SENTENCES

Putnam-co Judge Shows no Mercy to Bootleggers

OTTAWA — Offenders who have violated the liquor laws are receiving on consideration at the hands of Judge E. H. Eastman of Putnam-co common pleas court.

Judge Eastman had given notice previously that he was not inclined to show mercy to bootleggers and others of that type who faced him in court.

Carl Munz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munz, of Ottawa, became aware of Judge Eastman's order Tuesday when former sentence of the court was vacated and Munz was held to pay $500 or serve a workhouse sentence.

At the rate allowed by law, that of 60 cents a day, it would require more than 800 days or over 25 months for Munz to work out the sentence.

Besides vacating the former order concerning Munz, made last summer when Munz faced Judge Eastman on a like charge, he fined him an additional $300 and costs for being drunk and disorderly on several occasions.

Unable to meet either fine, Munz is in the county jail. He is a periodical offender and has been arrested almost every month by Marshal E. M. Cahill, of Ottawa, for being drunk and disorderly.

Judge Eastman, in passing sentence Friday on Frank Porterfield and Floyd Ordway, farmers, gave each a sentence of from one to five years in the Ohio penitentiary.

They were found guilty of manufacturing liquor. The verdict was filed by a jury in May.

When federal officers visited the Ogar farm this spring they found a still in operation there.

"Little Partners" will be the feature attraction of the Harvey D. Orr "Come Along Mary" company at the New Orpheum for the latter half of the week beginning Thursday matinee. "Come Along Mary" will be presented for the final times Wednesday matinee and night.

This production is said to be one of the best plays in the company's repertoire and is heralded as even better than the present bill, which has proved so successful this week. All new vaudeville specialties will be presented by members of the company.

Curley Burns and his "Cute Little Devils" are booked for a two weeks run, beginning Sunday, as a Mardi Gras feature. A festival of joy is predicted by those who have seen this company in Canton, where it will close a 16 week stay this Saturday.

Special midnight show Labor Day has been arranged and it is probable that an entirely different bill from any other given during the stay here will be presented at that performance. Seats will be reserved for every performance except the matinee after Labor Day matinee will be reserved.

"When a Girl Loves"

With a splendid cast, a most interesting background and a theme that reaches into the inner recesses of your heart, Victor Hugo Halperin's powerful photodrama, "When a Girl Loves" was shown for the initial times Tuesday at the Lyric theatre. It is replete with thrills and enacted by a cast of real stars who interpreted their roles in a most pleasing manner.

Agnes Ayres portrays the leading feminine role, that of Sasha Boroff, the Russian girl whose dream of love with the handsome Count Michael, romantically played by Percy Marmont, receives a crushing blow when a brutal Russian coachman, who has risen to power when the Czar's regime is shattered, carries him off to prison to be shot.

Of course Michael isn't shot but Sasha doesn't know this until some time later when she has gone to America with her family. Here she learns that Michael is married. Sasha marries Dr. Luke, her love still deeply rooted for Michael, despite his marriage.

Luke and Michael's wife have a secret love affair and while at a notorious roadhouse one night it is raided. Helen begs aid of Sasha, into whose house she rushes in an effort to escape detection. In quick succession, Sasha learns the truth. So does Michael. A duel about to take place ends disastrously for both Michael and Sasha as Dr. Luke's bullet instead of piercing Michael's heart, is received by Sasha. Michael falls by her side, the shock stilling his famous voice.

Sasha recovers. Michael's life is restored by a hunchback, whom Sasha has befriended, and they once more find themselves the same old sweethearts.

"Polly Preferred"

Those interested in the production of motion pictures will enjoy the scenes in "Polly Preferred," the comedy to be seen at the Faurot Saturday, Sunday and Labor Day, that show the organization of a producing company and the "filming" of scenes.

once a month during the coming season, appearing on Saturdays and Sundays. The balance of each week will be filled in with the more popular of well known road shows.

The plot of "Polly Preferred" centers around a little chorus girl, Polly Brown, who permits a high pressure salesman to incorporate her as a motion picture company and sell stock in her.

The company grows, success is won and even her promise not to wed for five years, made for the protection of the stockholders, does not serve to keep her from falling in love with her enterprising salesman.

One of the best casts possible has been obtained for the production, it is announced by the organizers of the company. Milton Byron, Betty Hanna, Rikel Kent, Judith Warren, Kenneth Rowland, Alma Coble, Frederick Webber, Nat Burns, Joseph Denier, James D. Henri, Helen Himes and others are booked to appear here.

The NERVOUS WRECK

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The "Nervous Wreck" is an exciting story of a young man, a girl, and a boy who are caught in a web of mystery and danger. The story begins when they are run out of the station when they run out of gasoline. At the point of a gun the Wreck takes three gallons from a passing car.

Later, when the Wreck is found, the young man, a girl, and a boy are caught in a web of mystery and danger. The story begins when they are run out of the station when they run out of gasoline. At the point of a gun the Wreck takes three gallons from a passing car.

As he bawled it into view it angered him to think of the hours he had spent in searching for it," called Sally.

"Keep him there until I light the lantern," he ordered the Wreck.

Chester, with Sally following, walked into the shed and the Wreck closed the door behind them. He motioned Chester to a place against the wall.

"Keep the gun on him," he told Sally. "I'll be through in five minutes."

It took less than two minutes to slide a jack under the front axle, lift it and kick the soap-box aside. He slipped the wheel into place, adjusted the lock nut, carefully inserted the cotter pin and spread the ends. When the hub cap was screwed on and the jack removed the flier stood on four wheels again.

"You wait till they get you for this," said Chester grimly.

The Wreck laughed, threw back the door and began rolling the flier into the open. He did not dare start the motor. He tied Chester's feet together.

"We're going to look you in here," he said. "You're lucky it's no worse. We're not going away just yet. One of us will be outside. If you do any yelling, I'll come back and gag you myself. I'll shut you, I don't know which. Come on, Sally."

She joined him outside and watched him close the door of the shed and slip the padlock into place. He had already extinguished the lantern.

"He's a holler," said the Wreck, loud enough to be heard within the shed, "shoot through the door."

He whined as he spoke, then hurried off in the direction of the ranch house, leaving Sally to stand guard, with the gun in her hand.

There was still a light in one of the upper windows, and he moved as cautiously as possible as he peered the house. He remembered exactly where a ladder lay, alongside the wall, and went directly to it. Carrying it to a corner of the building and raising it, he rested it gently against the eaves. Then he mounted cautiously, hearing the creaks he groped overhead, found something with his fingers then reached into a hip pocket. The jaws of the pliers were sharp and the telephone wire parted with a thrumming sound.

The Wreck did not wait to learn whether anybody within heard the noise, but slid down the ladder and hurried away. Twenty yards distant from the house he began groping in the grass and presently found what he sought. As he began walking again he was coiled wire in his hands. The telephone line, used for the source of several hundred yards distant, was carried on a row of poles. He followed it as far as the first pole, cut the wire again, then hurried in the direction of the foolshed, with the coil over his arm.

Sally, nervous at the delay and not understanding the cause of it, was standing guard at the door. Without a word of explanation, he tossed the coiled wire into the bottom of the car.

plunged forward, up the grade toward the sheltering spruce.

In a minute they made the turn that shut the house from view. The road became winding, but he did not permit the fact to interfere with speed. Sally held fast to the seat, trying to realize that they were actually in flight. She knew better than to offer a word of caution; when the Wreck was driving he resented suggestion. Besides, she was just as anxious as he to put distance between the flier and the ranch.

After a mile of going he brought the car to a sudden stop and leaped out, leaving the engine running. She saw him rush off among the low trees and thought for a half minute that he must have lost his mind. Then she caught sight of his figure outlined against the moonlit sky. It was perched on the top of a slender pole that rose above the trees. Before she could conjecture what he was doing, he slid from sight again. Bursting back into the trail, he swung back into the trail again and they were off.

"Just wanted to cut the wire some more," he said, between gasps. "Makes it a little harder for 'em."

"You'd better not waste much time cutting wire," he warned him, with another look backward. "Why not, Mrs. Lot?"

"They've probably got the big car on now."

He reached into the pocket of his coat and drew forth something that fell clinking into her lap. She picked up the two metallic objects and tried to examine them in the dim light.

"What are they?" she asked. "One of 'em is an intake valve, the other's an exhaust. Timothy's been grinding them down."

"And they can't run the car?" "Not particularly," said the Wreck.

"And how are you going to get them back to Timothy?" He took them from her hands and tossed them into the bushes at the side of the trail.

"Let 'em send to New York for new valves," he answered in a tone of savage satisfaction. "They expect to stay a month, don't they?"

"You're only piling up trouble for yourself, Henry Williams." "None. Only playing safe."

And to emphasize the safety of his play, he stopped the flier again and ascended another pole, from which he cut the wires with two vicious snaps of his pliers.

"Don't forget they can make time over this trail with a horse," said Sally. "If I were you I'd keep moving."

"I had the saddles," said the Wreck, grinning. "Took all the saddles and bridles and carted them out back of the corral. Dumped them into a gulley. They won't find them till morning, anyhow."

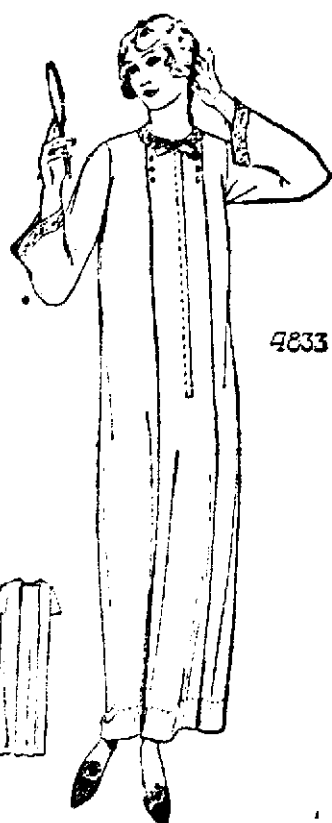

As the broad scope of his precautions to forestall pursuit dawned upon her, Sally experienced a feeling of awe and admiration. She already knew that he had a way of doing things on impulse; but it was a discovery to learn that the Wreck could be so coldly calculating.

"What a fellow," she said, "you might slow down a little until we reach the main road. There's no use breaking our necks until we get off the underwood property."

He adopted the suggestion and drove more slowly, although he did it with reluctance. He had a sort of affection for the dusty flier, and the touch of the steering wheel inspired him. He was in a mood to make the machine fly, if it would.

A third time he dismounted, as they reached the end of the private road, and threw open the gate. He even took the trouble to get through the gate, after they had passed through. Then, once more, taking the main road lay just in front of them, running at right angles. "Which way?" he demanded. "I suppose you're headed for the train, aren't you?"

Peppen Again Proves Value

"I'll tell you," said Mr. John Laiman, of 525 South Elizabeth street, Lima, my son Earl and I agreed that Peppen is the finest medicine made. Earl got a hot attack of the preparation at Hunter's drug store and started taking it for his stomach trouble. It did him so much good that I began using it too.

"I had been bothered with attacks of gas and bloating for some months. My food would sour in my stomach and give me pains in my side and up around my heart. I felt stuffed up and sluggish all the time. My sleep was not sound either and in the morning it was all I could do to get up and go to work."

"Peppen (though) put me back on the road to health. Now I feel as young as my son is. I sleep sound and am hungry for my breakfast in the morning. I can truthfully advise the people of Lima to give Peppen a trial."

Peppen is sold and guaranteed by The Hunter drug store, 49 Public Square; The Paramount store, cor. Main & Wayne Sts.; The Argonne store, opp. Post Office, adv.

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM SYDNEY CARTON TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT

Your letter, Jack, was exactly what I expected of you. You always get yourself into trouble, and then you ask somebody to get you out of it. Some day, old man, you'll come a cropper. I won't have so very much sympathy for you even then, and I certainly have none now.

I wonder if you realize that if Leslie wishes she can take that boy away from you. It wouldn't surprise me at all if she did this. I would be rather poetic retribution, wouldn't it, if little Jack learned to call some other man "Daddy?" Stranger things have happened.

I often wonder why it is that men seem to think they are capable of loving as many times as they find the time, the place and the girl in conjunction, while they are sure that women never love but once. All the great lovers of history have voiced this sentiment. Helene, bless his egotistical heart, having said that women are too delicate and spiritual to feel the great passion more than once. I'd like to have him tell that to a modern flapper wouldn't you?

Of course I don't know Leslie's common sense and loyalty to her side of the story, but I think you would better get into the band wagon right away. First thing you know Leslie will tire of your foolishness and tell you so. I don't mind telling you, not even having heard from Leslie on the matter, that I'll put my money on her and wager everything in the world that she is right.

You say you can't understand her. You mean you can't understand why she has disappointed you in some egotistical thing, that you think is due from her. If you had a grain of sense you would know that any woman who cared enough for a man to do what Leslie has for you would not stoop to betray him in the slightest degree, even if she found, to her great disappointment that he had not come up to the ideal which she had of him.

I can't help thinking that little cat of a sister of hers was at the bottom of this trouble. This may be just a hunch, but from what you have said about her, and from what I saw of her at your wedding three years ago, I am sure she would stop at nothing to get what she wants. She seems to be kind start the boy's education and set her on without Mrs. Alberton's common sense and loyalty to her friends.

I bet you'll find out that she sent that anonymous letter. You bit, all right, old man, and in doing so you have hurt grievously the woman you say you love. I should think women would hate us. We never stop to look at their side of a controversy. We never consult their wishes except when their wishes are coincident with ours.

You'll probably say, "How do you know all this when you're not married?" You haven't got sense enough to understand that while I don't know women very well, I do know my own sex, and all I have been doing here is to tell you a few truths about yourself and myself and every other man.

By the way, I had a letter from Paula Perler, written to me from Chicago. She's an amazing woman. She wrote the letter to urge me to advise you to take the money she wants to settle on little Jack. In some ways I think it would be a good thing for both little Jack and Paula, altho I am not sure it is the best thing in the world for Paula to still feel she has a claim on the boy. What she ought to do is to forget the incident and fall in love with some other man, if a man is necessary to her peace of mind.

However, you might invest the money in good bonds, and if Paula should ever be in need—you can't ever tell what will happen to these moving picture actresses—you could give it back to her. Otherwise it would be a nice nest egg to her wants. She seems to be kind start the boy's education and set her on without Mrs. Alberton's common sense and loyalty to her friends.

Grant Wins At Sidney; Batting Champ Near Record; International Tennis Games On

YANKS LESS THAN HALF GAME AHEAD OF GRIFFS

NEW YORK—Less than a quarter of the season remains in the American League pennant race for the New York Yankees to increase their lead of less than one half a game over the Washington Senators in second place, who in turn hold a three and a half game advantage over Detroit in third place.

Washington split a double header with the Browns in the capital city yesterday, losing the first game, 7 to 0, and winning the latter 6 to 2. The Yankees and Cleveland at New York and the Tigers at Boston remained idle because of rain.

Urban Shocker, pitching ace of the Browns, held the Washington club to five scattered hits in the first encounter. In the second engagement, Ogden of the Senators was never in trouble.

Connie Mack's Athletics won a hard fought twelve inning game over the White Sox, 4 to 3, Joe Hauser, Philadelphia first baseman, setting his twenty-first career home run. The season of Faber, of the five Giant pitchers to come back the hard-hitting Cubs won back the hard-hitting Cubs at bat, gained half a game on Pittsburgh which leads the Dodgers in third place by three games.

The Pirates split their double header with the Phillies, winning the first game 6-1, and dropping the second 3 to 1.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Joe Hauser, Athletic first baseman, hit his first homer in the 12th inning and beat the White Sox 4 to 3. It was the thirteenth straight defeat for the Sox.

Roger Hornsby hit his 22nd homer—the sixth in six days—and three doubles but the other Cards couldn't anything with Burleigh Grimes and the Robins won 7 to 4.

After winning eight straight games, the Senators in the first game of a double header to the Browns, 7 to 0, but they won the second game 6 to 2 and lost only one point in percentage.

Two errors by Grantham in the 9th inning started a rally that gave the Giants four runs and an 11 to 9 victory over the Cubs.

Yde let the Phils have only five hits in the first game and the Pirates won 6 to 1, but Hubbell outpitched Shocker in the second game and the Phils dropped 3 to 1.

Jake Aubert led the attack on Benton with two doubles and a triple but the Reds beat the Browns 7 to 0 behind Pete Donohue.

Local Boxer Kayos Hogan

The boxing show held at Sidney, under the auspices of the Sidney Athletic club, was pulled off very successfully Tuesday night. Charley Maxwell, of Lima, was the referee and gave the same satisfaction that he always gives. Contrary to expectations Raz Harmony, of Sidney, won the ten round bout over Jimmy Andrews, of Lima. The bout between Kid Hogan, of Delphos and Sailor Grant of Lima was a merry mixup, fast and furious while it lasted. The Sailor put Hogan out with a straight hard punch to the jaw in the first round after two minutes and thirty seconds of fast boxing.

SHATTERS ANOTHER RECORD

Charles W. Paddock, sensational California runner, at the finish of the 250-yard special event at Travers Island, N. Y., in which he broke a world's record of 36 years standing by stepping the distance in :25 2-5.

Hornsby Hits 'Em Hard

ST. LOUIS—Since starting on a batting spree here a week ago in a game with Philadelphia, Roger Hornsby, the Cardinal's slugging second baseman and leading major league hitter, has hit safely in ten straight games and collected 27 hits in 39 attempts for a total of 16 runs. During the past week three double headers were played. Of these hits, Hornsby has driven out six homers, bringing his total for the season to 22, and eight doubles and one triple.

In Tuesday's game with Brooklyn, he scored three of the four runs scored by St. Louis, driving out one homer and three doubles off Grimes in four attempts. His week's average of .692 is thought to be a world's record. Last Wednesday and Thursday, Hornsby obtained thirteen hits in fourteen trips to the plate, in the four games played. He had hit safely nine straight times on Friday when he was stopped by Pitcher Neft of New York.

TILDEN MEETS ALONZO IN FEATURE CONTEST

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
FOREST HILLS, N. Y.—(By United Press)—Clear skies and a bright warm sun brought ideal conditions for play today in the national singles tennis championship at the West Side Tennis Club here this afternoon.

The courts were in splendid condition after the heavy rain.

Officials of the tournament decided to carry the finals over until Tuesday instead of Monday rather than make the attempt to catch up on the round lost yesterday by postponement. It was felt that some of the players, who have been priming themselves for a crack at Bill Tilden's title might go stale with only one day's lay-off and that overwork in the early rounds might throw them off their game.

Big Surprise Sprung By Triangles

The West End Triangles sprung a surprise Tuesday evening by trouncing the Loco Pattern team in a Twilight league game at Loco field, 13 to 5.

The visiting team scored a quartet of runs in each of the first three innings and made an extra one in the fourth for good measure. The game was called in the fifth by darkness after a Pattern rally which netted four runs was stopped.

B. & O. will meet the Loco Maintenance at Loco field Wednesday evening while the Loco Engineering will play the Lima Telephone at Faurst park. Both are postponed games. Should the Maintenance win its game, that team will advance to tie for first place with the Nickel Plate.

No games will be played in the league on Thursday because of the big "Y" picnic at McBeth park. Two games will be played Friday evening.

Score by Innings:

Triangles	100	04	5	7	3
Loco	44	13	13	3	3

Batteries: Thelning and Cunningham; Houx and Griffiths.

Post Office Team Beat Catalpas

Pounding out hits off two pitchers, the Post Office team of the Industrial Twilight league won from the Catalpa Indians at Faurst park Tuesday evening, 9 to 3. The game was stopped by darkness at the end of the first half of the sixth inning.

Foss twirled nice ball for the federal employees, permitting the Catalpas but three safe hits. The Indians' lineup was weakened by the absence of four regular players.

The victory was the second that the Post Office has won during the season. They are scheduled to play at Faurst field Saturday afternoon against the Mansfield Post Office team in a game which will be part of the program of the annual Post Office employees' picnic which is to be held at Faurst park Saturday afternoon. Score by Innings:

Indians	300	102	3	3	1
P. O.	140	13	9	3	3

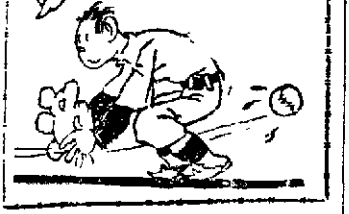

Batteries: H. Wright, Nevergall and G. Wright; Foss, Gilmore and Holmes.

Pros, 'Ams And Sich

STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO
Your Uncle Samuel has succumbed to the Little Theatre movement. His first production is a radio-comedy entitled "The Return of the Gold Silver Dollar."

It's one of them big human documents that just boil over with emotion, and a man named Benny he does find himself sobbing or loud just like dern out.

The big kick comes in the third act, when the white-faced gal earbitten and wronged, comes back to the old homestead.

It's a bleak November night, the wind is howling worse'n Carver after dropping a decision, the frigidity is widespread and authentic. There is a faint knock at the door, followed by a hacking cough, and muffled cry of a baby.

"What's that?" asks the hired man, for indeed it was he. "Stat- you loafer," snapped the white-haired old father, as he tossed his mail-order five-tube set into the burning jaws of the base- burner.

That is the comedy line. Soon he laughter subsides. The knock at the door is repeated, possibly in the theory that one good knock deserves another. The white-haired old father adjusts his two teeth and totters to the door.

"Don't you know me, father?" leads the girl, stopping abruptly in the middle of her song, which this act is "It Ain't Gonna Rain no More," and snuffing out a chafed cigarette with a shapely trench heel.

(This is one of the crudities of the play. The cigarette business lessens the human appeal. In these rural things the gal ought to be smoking a pipe or chewing.)

"Don't you know me, father?" repeats the distressed beauty, this time in a rising guttural tone, the white-haired old father looks over puzzledly. "I've seen that title but I can't recall the face," he admits.

Then comes the mighty Wilton piece. "I'm your Old Sil- Dollar. I have come home again."

The white-haired old man bursts out laughing. Don't kid me, stat. The old silver dollar was with 100 cents and I seen by papers this morning that the dollar today is worth only 69 cents.

IF YOU THINK THIS IS TERRIBLE WRITE YOUR CONGRESSMAN TODAY.

Mobridge Is Amateur Champ

DAYTON, Ohio—Frank Hughes of Mobridge, S. D., today is the amateur trapshooting champion of North America. He having shot his way thru to the title, at the Grand American association meet here Tuesday, breaking 199 out of 200 targets. He recently returned from the Olympic games where he made phenomenal scores.

Scores show a number of marksmen had scores of 198. The race for champions, open to the state champions for the various states, had a race all to themselves. In this contest Claude Wolney, the tall and rugged Wisconsinite, proved supreme. Olney hails from West Allis, Wis., and just recently won the championship of his state with 200 straight. Yesterday he knocked down 198 of the inanimate birds. Today he is known as the champion of champions.

Miss Georgiana Hobson, of Bowling Green, Ky., won the women's championship of America.

Dudley R. Shallcross of Seconk, Mass., won the junior championship. Master Dudley is just turned 17 years of age.

The professional trap honors went to Art Killam of St. Louis, who has previously won the professional championship of America in 1921 and 1922.

The various zones of the country entered teams in the race for the zone team championship of North America. The prairie zone seemed to have the edge yesterday and was recorded the winner with a margin of several targets to spare. The team was composed of Frank Hughes, 199; Phil Miller, 198; Fred Etchen, 197; Chief Wheeler, 191, and Bill Lambert, 191. They hail from Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Latonia Gets Ready For Big Meet

LATONIA, Ky. — (Associated Press) — Latonia is dressing up for its biggest autumn meet, with $50,000 in stakes to tempt horsemen. There will be run also the third of the international races in which the famous French race horse, Epinard, will meet the best of America's three-year-olds and up horses for a $50,000 added purse, scheduled for October 11.

If the French horse does what some horsemen expect it to do in the east, win the two international sweepstakes, the third race here will be the climax of the thoroughbred racing season in America. But regardless of what Epinard may do in the races at Belmont Park on Labor Day and at Aqueduct Sept. 27, officials of the Kentucky Jockey Club are making preparations to handle the largest assemblage of race enthusiasts in its history.

The fall racing season here will open Sept. 27 and continue until Oct. 18. Six stakes are distributed over the 31 days of racing, in addition to the feature race, the third of the international races. This special race will be over a mile and a quarter route.

The other stakes are: The Fort Thomas Handicap, 2-year-olds, 8 furlongs, $5,000 added; The Autumn Handicap, 3-year-olds and up, 6 furlongs, $5,000 added; The Covington Handicap, 3-year-olds and up, 1 1/16 miles, $5,000 added; The Latonia Cup Handicap, 3-year-olds and up, 2 1/4 miles, $10,000 added; The Latonia Championship (closed), 3-year-olds, 1 3/4 miles, $15,000 added and the Queen City Handicap (closed), 2-year-olds, 1 mile, $10,000 added.

The Superior-Loco game was transferred from Faurst park, where the games usually are played, to Loco field because Faurst park field will be used by the Lima Post Office and Mansfield Post Office teams, which are scheduled to play a baseball game as part of the program of the annual picnic of the local post office employees.

Saturday's games are the set which was postponed from May 24. A week from Saturday the last set of games, postponed from July 5, will be played, while a week later the final game in the league will be staged between the Locomotive and B. & O. teams, which played a tie game at the very start of the season.

Ohio Powers Not Going To Quit

Rumors that the Ohio Power team of the Industrial league had disbanded are without foundation. Victor Bird, "Y" industrial secretary, announced Wednesday. The team will put its strongest lineup on the field against the B. & O. Saturday at Murphy-st park and will be out to win that game and its final league game a week from Saturday with the league-leading Locomotive team.

The Police, who advanced to second place in the standing by defeating the Ohio Power last Saturday, will play the Crane Co. team in the second game of the afternoon at Murphy-st. The revamped Superior Motor Coach Body nine is booked to play the Locos at Loco field in the third game.

The Superior-Loco game was transferred from Faurst park, where the games usually are played, to Loco field because Faurst park field will be used by the Lima Post Office and Mansfield Post Office teams, which are scheduled to play a baseball game as part of the program of the annual picnic of the local post office employees.

HAY FEVER

PROMPTLY RELIEVED BY NEW DISCOVERY

Fires Quit Itching Nose Stops Running and Burning. Makes Life Worth Living. Money Refunded if It Fails.

At last, relief for hay fever. The long search by scientists for something that would counteract the effect of pollen has resulted in a new discovery. It is now possible to go through the hay fever season and hardly know that you ever had this terrible affliction. Dia-pollin is the name of this new compound. It is absolutely harmless and contains no injurious or habit-forming drugs. Simple application in the nostrils and almost instantly you realize that hay fever has met its match. The nose clears up and stops running. The fever cools off. Breathing becomes easier. The redness and itching of the eyes cease and soon cease almost entirely. A few applications a day enable you to work in comfort and sleep in peace. Hay fever is caused by pollen from weeds, vegetation etc. which irritates the mucous lining of the nose. Dia-pollin keeps this pollen infection under such control that it doesn't make your life miserable. It is easy to use and acts like magic.

"Gave Wonderful Relief"

I started using Dia-pollin for hay fever last July and obtained most wonderful relief. For the first time in many

FRENCH WOMAN TELLS

HOW TO ## GET THIN

Without Diets, Absurd Creams,

Exercises or Reducing Girdles.

I reduced my own weight 50 pounds in less than 9 weeks and at the same time permanently improved my general health and appearance with a new French discovery called SAN GRINA. To-day I look younger than my actual age from the results of my own case and those of my friends. I am absolutely convinced that any man or woman burdened with rolls of ugly, lumpy, unwholesome fat, can take off the extra weight quickly and easily with SAN GRINA. SAN GRINA is one of the latest French discoveries for the reduction of excess fat. It does away with weakening diets, strenuous exercises, torturing garments and absurd and expensive reducing girdles. It is used extensively in Paris, where women of every age pride themselves on keeping their figures slim and graceful. No matter how fat you are, or what you have done in the past to reduce you must remember that SAN GRINA has never been offered before to the American public. IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS—does not contain any dangerous drugs and cannot possibly affect your stomach or your health. By simply taking 2 small tablets before each meal, 1 lost 50 pounds in 2 months. I haven't regained a pound since. I eat all I want and enjoy the best of health. You can do the same. To-day go to any good drug store, ask for a package of SAN GRINA. It is the ONLY THING I ever found to reduce after I had tried hundreds of different ways and remedies.

San Grina is now sold at Golden's Butlers, Daniels, Keltner's, Green's or Hunter's Drug Stores.
